C Definition of Professional Liability Insurance

Professional liability insurance is defined as insurance which provides coverage for:

- legal liability for damages because injuries to other persons, damage to their property, or other damage or loss to other persons, including the expenses of litigation and settlement, resulting from or arising out of any tortuous act, error, or omission of the covered individual (whether common law, statutory, or constitutional) while in the performance of the individual's official duties as a qualified employee
- the cost of legal representation for the covered individual in connection with any administrative or judicial proceeding, including any investigation or disciplinary proceeding, relating to any act, error, or omission of the covered individual while in the performance of the individual's official duties as a qualified employee, and other legal costs and fees relating to any administrative or judicial proceeding.

2 Program Updates

A Eligibility

Only active supervisors or management officials, as defined in paragraph 3, are eligible for the program. Separated employees are not eligible for the program.

B Insurer's Administrative Fees

The administrative fee is now considered to be part of the professional liability insurance premium and may be included for reimbursement.

C Retroactive Reimbursement

Employees who have not submitted claims for reimbursement since October 1, 1996, the effective date of the legislation, must do so no later than May 31, 2002. Employees who submit claims after May 31, 2002, for reimbursement of insurance purchased more than 2 years before that date will not be eligible for reimbursement.

 their grievances, or to effectively recommend such action, if the exercise of the authority is not merely routine or clerical in nature but requires the consistent exercise of independent judgment
- "management official" means an individual employed by an agency in a position the duties and responsibilities of which require or authorize the individual to formulate, determine, or influence the policies of the agency."
